Correspondence of the Daily Patrot. "Way Down East," December 1857. Messas, Entrops:-It is so long, sloce I promised to report myself, that you, perhaps, may have forgotten it, but as I have, not, here's to you, The good steamer "Sallie" landed as safely at Smithland, after having stripped several landings of what loose iron they had laying about-and tying up to several trees during the dense fogs we repeatedly encountered-in somewhere between two days and a week from the time we left. We managed to live through it very well, however-as the Steward had made ample provisions in his department, and HENRY had a good stock of second on hand-willie Capt. C., and his right hower, contributed all in their power to make our trip

After waiting nearly a day at Smithland for an up river boat, the "Tecumeeh" came along, and we embarked for what proved to be a five days passage to Cincia nati. We were delayed by fog and drift mood alternately, till I began to thick serious- $8 50. thing of a hurry.

Having been dispirately attacked by a not ov r particular and matrinonially ambitious wislow on board, I decided to stick to the ship as long as her timbers lasted, which at times seemed a very uncertain period, as many very formidable trees came booming towards us-roots, tops and all-making our heavily laden boat tremble terribiy when they Arrived at Cinciunsti-the widow disposed ofand 6 A. M., the bour I found myself-scated in the cars for Buffalo-for a cold and disagreeable ride -in which I promise you I was not disappointed. I could'nt smoke, and they did'nt was time to chew but sit there and be dorged and deviled all day by the store of pedlars tolerated along the whole route in the cars. Last year's almanaca-last month's magazines-last week's papers--and lots | BIBLES, PRAYER, AND OURT BOOKS. of other old trush were continually hawked before you, and so impertment have they become that if one fortunately gets asleep in such uncomfortable low prices by cars they will awake him, to solicit a sale, with as much in purience and as little ceremony as the conductor will have you, for the placteenth time, there "show your ticket."

delighted with some manifestations illustrative of the beauties of living in a land where a white monis as good as a negro-if he behaves himself! Stepping into the wasb-room of a quite extensive establishment, for a wash and shave, I saw a large six d, coal black and "hog-fat" darkey washing his face at one of the marble stands provided, as I was eitly enough to suppose, for the use of gentlemen, only. I waited till be got through, carious to see whose handkerchief he would take to wipe his face on-but he contented himself by using the long rolling towel that I had supposed was placed for the pletian whites.

I took the next stand and washed -- a luxury not turned to the colored gent, in attendance for a tow- | eu in every family. dark colored friend had just been using! To the best of my recollection I didn't use that but I distinctly recollect the reluctant manner in which he handed me another, and the look of contempt. that accompanied it --- and made up my mind that I would differ staying 'nill I reached some place where less spite would be shown towards one who couldn't awallow quite so wuch durkey.

My trip has been without other adventures, so far and I'll annoy you no long r now. Of course I must not slight that always fruitful topic - the sceather-which I am happy to report milder and more agrecable than I ever knew in New England, at this scason of the year.

It may strike you as novel, but it is new rabelore care, that the Lumbermen are complaining of the wild season! This you wil appreciate when informed that they cannot go into the Lumber swamps to cut and haul it out, until after a sev. ru cold snap, and then an abundance of snow, neither of which they have had yet.

The money punic has reached here and "hard times 'is the complaint in all directions. Nearly all the politicians are rejoiced that Douglas is deserting Buchanan but few have confidence enough in him to promise him their aid. You may possibly hear again from yours,
